Dining Etiquette Around the World: Hands, Chopsticks, Forks, Knives and Spoons

presented by

Syndi Seid's Advanced Etiquette

Vinita Chopra Jacinto

Culinary Chef Instructor

California Culinary Academy

When was the last time you dined without a fork or knife? Don't worry—we're not selling the silverware! What we are doing is collaborating with The Commonwealth Club of Northern California and The City Club of San Francisco to present a fantastic dinner event designed to teach you the finer points of dining etiquette around the world.

In this unique and interactive learning experience, Seid and Jacinto will discuss how various cultures have developed different basic styles of eating: with fingers, two sticks of wood, and forged metal. At the elegant The City Club of San Francisco, you will enjoy an elegant 3-course meal with wine inspired by the cuisines of China, India, and Europe—while Seid and Jacinto discuss the finer points of etiquette for each dining style.
